

NEWS ADVISORY

March 3, 2008

Contact: Stephanie Nichols
617.259.2946
617-365-5931 (cell)
snichols@liveworkthrive.org

Crittenton Women's Union to honor Suze Orman at Amelia Earhart Award luncheon in April

- WHAT: Crittenton Women's Union, a nonprofit organization dedicated to helping low-income women attain economic independence, will present its 24th Amelia Earhart Award to Suze Orman, nationally acclaimed personal finance expert, best-selling author, and Emmy Award-winning television personality. Each year, the Amelia Earhart Award recognizes a woman who embodies Earhart's pioneering spirit, and who has significantly contributed to the expansion of opportunities for women. In 2008, CWU will pay tribute to Orman and her message of financial empowerment for women. The event, which benefits Crittenton Women's Union, draws more than 1,000 attendees.
- WHO: Suze Orman
Elisabeth D. Babcock, president and CEO of Crittenton Women's Union
Pamela A. Murray, chair of Crittenton Women's Union
Participant in Crittenton Women's Union program
- WHERE: Boston Marriott Copley Place – Grand Ballroom
110 Huntington Avenue
Boston, MA 02116
- WHEN: Friday, April 11, 2008
11:30 a.m. – Registration
Noon to 1:30 p.m. – Program and Luncheon
- TICKETS: $150 per person. Advance reservations required. Tickets may be purchased online at www.liveworkthrive.org; or by calling 617-259-2921; or by emailing: amelia@liveworkthrive.org.

About Crittenton Women's Union

Crittenton Women's Union, a Boston-based nonprofit organization, combines direct service programs, independent research and public policy advocacy in its mission to transform the course of low-income women's lives so that they can attain economic independence and create better futures for themselves and their families. Each year CWU helps more than 2,000 people through its safe housing, education and training programs, and family support services. For more information, visit www.liveworkthrive.org.

###